I. O. O. F. DEDICATION STARTED ON SUNDAY

Sermon by Rev. Gibson Wilson Opens
Program Which Will End on Tuesday Night

WILL BE OPEN FOR PUBLIC

Members of Lodge Will be Present
to Conduct Visitors Through the
New Lodge Home

The dedicatory program arranged by the Odd Fellows for the formal opening of their new temple, corner of Morgan and Third streets, got under way with a service at the First Presbyterian church Sunday evening, and today final touches were being put on the temple in preparation for the public reception Tuesday at 3 p. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Members of the lodge will be present to receive the public and conduct the visitors through the building for an inspection. A company of negro spiritual singers will entertain at 8 p. m. at the temple and the Odd Fellows orchestra of twelve pieces will also play in the evening.

The Rev. Gibson Wilson, who was grand chaplain in Indiana last year and held the same position in Ohio Odd Fellowship before coming to Indiana, spoke on "The Origin and Teaching of Odd Fellowship" and gave a brief history of the local lodge, referring to its notable career with reference to the men it had provided for larger duties.

"The local lodge," the Rev. Mr. Wilson pointed out, "was organized May 13, 1846, just 79 years ago on Wednesday of this week, the day on which the new lodge is to be dedicated. Its membership is now 424 with a class of 40 ready to be initiated on that occasion."

"This lodge has had a notable career especially with reference to its membership. Among those who have attained distinction in the order are General P. A. Hackleman a charter member and Past Grand Master; Leonidas Sexton, Lieutenant Governor of Indiana and Past Grand Master; Edwin Farrer an enthusiastic supporter of the order and Past Grand Master; J. T. Arbuckle uniting in his efforts for the order and a Past Grand Master. Dr. Marshal Sexton a distinguished physician was honored with the office of Grand Patriarch; Frank McIlwaine, devoted to the interests of the order is now serving as Grand Patriarch and E. H. Berry served as Grand Secretary for five years. This is a notable record considering the great number of lodges who have never had any such record."

BRICK CONSTRUCTION BEING RESUMED TODAY

Work Delayed Last Week on Endres-Tompkins Furniture Plant,
But Brick Has Now Arrived

RAILROAD SWITCH IS BUILT

Work on the Endres-Tompkins Furniture company plant, which has been started north and west of the Nashville Furniture company's buildings, was resumed in earnest today, following a week's delay due to the non-arrival of brick.

The cement foundation was completed a week ago and bricklayers went to work at the front of the building, building up the sidewalks. Delay in the shipment of brick slowed up the building operations, but with the arrival of three cars, it is expected that the building will go up rapidly.

The bed for the siding which is being run from the Pennsylvania railroad to the site of the new plant, has been completed and the ties laid, and it will be completed as soon as cinders arrive for ballasting, so that the rails can be laid.

Phil Wilk is superintending the erection of the building and expects to push it through to completion at the earliest possible period.

The building will be brick and steel construction, with steel window sash. It will be one story, with two long sections extending east and west, and joined at the front which faces in George street.

of Liberty and H. W. Evans—Rest of Week is Filled

Indianapolis, May 11—D. C. Stephenson, former grand dragon of the Indiana Ku Klux Klan in jail charged with murder for the death of Miss Madge Oberholtzer, faces a busy week if he personally attends all the legal hearings in which he is involved.

Trial of his damage suit for $125,000 against Walter Bossert, of Liberty, Ind., Klan leader, and Hiram W. Evans, former imperial wizard of the hooded order, is set for Tuesday in federal court.

The complaint charges that Evans was responsible for the burning of Stephenson's yacht in Toledo, O., last year. Bossert was named in the suit but his name was later dropped. Hearing will be held in superior court Tuesday on attachment proceedings against the Fidelity and Deposit company involving real estate and personal property of Stephenson.

The case was brought by Mrs. Nettie Stephenson Brehm, of Porteau, Okla., his former wife, who is seeking $17,000 support money for their child. On Friday Judge Collins in criminal court will hear arguments on the motion to quash the indictment charging Stephenson and his two aids, Earl Klenck and Earl Gentry, with murder for the death of Miss Oberholtzer.

Another attachment proceedings will be heard May 20 over possession of rugs formerly belonging to Stephenson now in the hands of Claude Worley, criminal court investigator.

The final appearance of "Hinky Doodle Town," a play given by Noble township farm bureau, was staged last Friday evening at the New Salem school building, before a crowded house. More than three hundred seats were sold prior to the performance.

EXTENDS OVATION TO NEW PRESIDENT

Crowds Lined up for Six Miles to
Greet Field Marshal Von Hindenburg in Berlin

TAKES OATH ON TUESDAY

City Takes Precautionary Measures
To Prevent Trouble, and Many
Police are on Hand

Berlin, May 11—Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, president-elect of Germany, arrived in Berlin today greeted by a tremendous throng which lined the six mile route from near Neerstrasse station in the suburbs to the Wilhelmstrasse Palace. There was a dramatic scene at the suburban station when the Field Marshal, who takes the oath of office as president of the Republic tomorrow, stepped from his private car.

Pale behind his bristling moustache and holding himself very erect Von Hindenburg was dressed in black over coat and carried black hat and gloves. A deep silence from the throng on the platform which marked his appearance, was broken by a sudden roar of cheers and cries of "hoch."

A smile broke across the field marshal's face and he bowed solemnly. Chancellor Luther advanced and shook hands cordially with the president-elect.

Berlin steered itself for the shock of possible clashes between Republicans and monarchists and ten thousand police, the largest mobilization in the capital's history, were on duty. Hundreds of detectives mingled with the throngs that surged to the route of Hindenburg's arrival.

Airplanes carrying police back and forth over the city, watching out for disturbances. There was no martial music, no bands whatever being permitted.

Throughout Berlin, by orders of monarchists organizations, the red, white and black banners of the old empire were displayed.

FUNERAL IS HELD FOR MOTHER DRURY

"Angel of the Barrel Houses" is
Buried Today as "Forgotten Men"
Shed Their Tears

STRANGE FUNERAL IN CHICAGO

Aged Woman Was Known by all
Men Along The Street, and Many of Them She Has Helped

By EDWARD C. DERR
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Chicago, May 11—A hush fell along the street of "forgotten men" today and tears fell unashamed from eyes, that once were hard and cold. It was the funeral for Mother Drury, the "angel of the barrel houses."

A grey-haired woman, nearly 70, a bit of a smile was still on her face as guant and broken-down men filed slowly past her casket, some of them dropping wilted and fading wild flowers at her bier.

There was "Tough Bill" Powell, a familiar character along the street; "Pete the Blind Fiddler," "Charley the Crutch," and other bits of human driftwood that had known Mother Drury for many years. She had gone up and down the murky streets of the barrel house district and called these men "my boys."

An air of mystery hung over the strange funeral. Mother Drury had come to the barrel houses 39 years ago, nobody knew from where. She had lived in a tiny third floor room with no companion but a cat that she rescued from under the wheels of a truck. Her only income was nickels and dimes that she collected for singing on the street corners, and more than half of these nickels and dimes she slipped into the pockets of her "boys."

Some of the mystery however, was wiped away at the funeral. Long lost relatives had read in the newspapers of Mother Drury's death. A brother, John Drury, 71, appeared in the quiet little undertaker's chapel and told what he knew of her.

IRENE KLINE FILES A CROSS COMPLAINT

Former Rushville Girl Asks $2,500
Alimony and Seeks Restoration
of Maiden Name

FILES SUIT AT CONNERSVILLE

Irene M. Kline, formerly Irene Maple of this city, has filed a cross complaint for divorce against Paul G. Kline in the Fayette circuit court at Connersville in which city the couple has resided since their marriage. She seeks $2,500 alimony and also asks that her former name of Irene Maple be restored.

Her action follows the filing of a divorce complaint by the husband several days ago, in which he made several charges against her.

The cross-complaint avers that Mrs. Kline's husband objected when she had her hair bobbed; that he forced her to make false admissions about caring for other men, and that he held "booze" parties at their home against her wishes. It is alleged that he threatened to smother her character if she opposed his efforts to secure a divorce or if she tried to collect alimony.

In the suit filed by the plaintiff it was alleged that Mrs. Kline was jealous of the plaintiff's daughter and that she left him when he gave his daughter an interest in some chickens.

SERMONS DEAL WITH THEME

Old-Fashioned Mother and Modern
Mother Compared—Mother's
Great Prerogative Home Making

Mother was the dominate figure in church services Sunday when Mothers' Day was celebrated. Morning sermons in Rushville dealt with the theme and the praises of motherhood were sounded in prose, poetry, and song. Sunday schools also emphasized the special day.

"A Mother's Throne" was the topic of the Rev. R. W. Sage at the First Baptist church and at the First Presbyterian church, the Rev. Gibson Wilson's theme was "Motherhood, a Partnership With God."

"Memories of Mother" was the subject of the sermon by the Rev. B. F. Cato at the Main Street Christian church, in which he compared the old-fashioned mother with the modern mother. He declared that mothers today were meeting their obligations and responsibilities just as well as old-fashioned mothers.

"The Soul of a Mother" was the subject of the sermon at St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church. In the evening the Rev. Dr. Charles W. Linsley preached an exceptionally strong sermon from John 21:22. It was a great pleasure for his friends and former parishoners to meet him and hear him preach.

St. Paul's Church

"The Soul of a Mother," was the subject of the Rev. H. W. Hargett's sermon delivered Sunday morning at the St. Paul's M. E. church. His text was taken from Luke 1:46, "My soul doth magnify the Lord, and Luke 2:35, "Yea a sword shall pierce through thine own soul." The sermon was as follows:

"God is ever revealing himself through Christ, through his word and his works, through history and through human relationships. Among these relationships the home is supreme. There mother love is a type of the divine love. In the soul of the true mother we find a revelation of God's care for his children. Our texts refer to the soul of Mary, the Mother of Jesus. In that soul there was gladness and sadness."

"My soul doth magnify the Lord, Mary enters the door of the temple of history to music. In this noble hymn of the Magnificent, her whole nature was caught up into rapturous exaltation. She worshipped God"

NEGRO BANDIT WANTED ON SEVERAL ROBBERIES

Indianapolis Police are After Man
Responsible For Attacks on 3
White Women

ROBBED THEIR COMPANIONS

Indianapolis, Ind., May 11—Police today redoubled their efforts to trail a negro bandit held responsible for attacks on three white women during the past two months and the robbery of a white man and woman Sunday night.

The negro jumped on the running board of the auto in which James Murphy and Miss Marion Vawter were riding and compelled Murphy to stop the machine.

Miss Vawter and Murphy were forced to leave the auto and lie face downward in the grass while the negro robbed Murphy.

As the bandit started toward the girl another auto approached and he fled.

The circumstances were a duplication of the attack on a white girl by a negro a few days ago after the girl's companion had been beaten by the negro.

U. S. PROMISES BIG FARMERS' PROFITS

Urged to Follow Latest Method of Government's Agricultural Experts to Wheat Market

FARMERS "MISS THE MARKET"

Economists Worked Out Method of Forecasting Hog Price Trends Which Have Been Tested

Washington, May 11—Big profits are promised to farmers who will follow the latest method of the government's agricultural experts to "beat the market."

The experts have taken that vicious circle known as the "hog cycle" and carved and plotted it until they are now able to tell the big producer how he can escape from the succession of market peaks and depressions in which he is usually just one jump behind and losing money at every jump.

Farmers "miss the market," department of agriculture officials said today, because they raise hogs in times of underproduction and high prices and stop breeding when there are low prices and overproduction. On the face of it that sounds like a reasonable procedure, but when the farmer looks at his bank book at the end of the season, he discovers there is something radically wrong with it. Here is the department's explanation:

"This plan fails to allow for the time that must pass before the results of breeding decisions thus made will be felt in a larger or smaller movement of hogs to market. The number of hogs on the market at any given time is not adjusted to the price conditions then existing, because the amount of the supply was determined months previously on the basis of the conditions prevailing at that time."

Obviously, if farmers could know what prices would rule several months later by the time they had finished breeding and raising their hogs, they could fit their supply to the demand and be ready to take advantage of peak prices.

Here is where the experts come to the rescue.

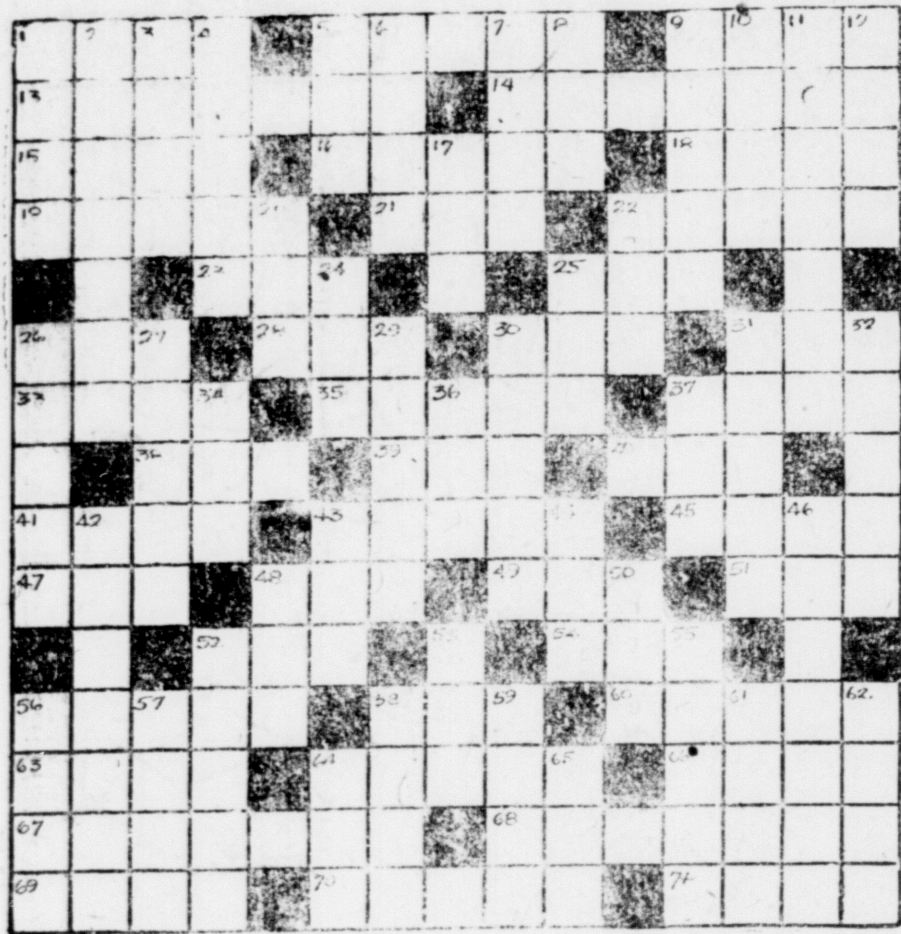

"Economies in the department of agriculture have worked out a method of forecasting hog price trends which makes it possible for the trend of the hog market to be foreseen far enough ahead and with enough general accuracy to give the farmers a better and safer basis for gauging production than they can ever get from watching the current markets," according to a department announcement. These forecasts are available to all farmers.

Since American hog production contributes nearly two-thirds of the supply of hog products in international trade, it is believed that the American farmers can in the main regulate world production and resultant market prices.

"The American hog producer can take the excessive swings out of the hog cycle simply by learning to gauge his production with an eye to the future, rather than to present price conditions," the announcement states. "As long as conditions remain as they are, basing hog production on the forecast, market trends will afford an opportunity for special and individual profits."

"In this field, as in others, the first comers will get the best pickings. As the practice of 'playing the cycle' becomes general, it will yield smaller profits for the shrewder individuals, but producers as a whole will gain through the tendency toward less extreme fluctuations in production and price."

Death or Life:—To be carnally minded is death; but to be spiritually minded is life and peace. Romans 8:6.

Prayer:—Gracious God, we know that Thou art a Spirit, able to change us from carnal to spiritual. We look to Thee in faith. Do Thou change us into the likeness of Thine Own Image.

A Vital Force

Advertising has reached the stage in its development where it plays a fundamental part in the life of the modern world. Its phenomenal growth and development has been in large measure due to the constructive work of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, which organization is holding its twenty-first annual convention in Houston, Texas, this week.

Secretary Hoover of President Coolidge's cabinet, in welcoming delegates from all over the world to the convention, gave a deserved tribute to advertising and the influence it has on modern business life.

"It has truly become," he said, "one of the vital forces in our entire industrial and commercial system. And beyond this, it has in its repercussions set many currents moving of wider influence than even the economic life of our people. It is now fixed as an integral part of this complex of civilization which we have built up."

Mr. Hoover went on to say that there was a time when advertising was not looked upon as a vital part of our economic system, but that its status had changed during the past few years.

Mr. Hoover gave credit to advertising for increasing our standards of living. He argued well when he said that no matter how fine an addition to human comfort or pleasure an article may be, unless there is a diffusion of knowledge and information with respect to it, it will not itself become quickly accepted and incorporated into our standards of living.

Sound Reasoning

Communities grow only in proportion to the support they receive from the people who make up the community.

Rushville and Rush county will never improve in quality and size by the inhabitants investing their money or buying the necessities of life in other localities.

People who cling to the misguided policy of "doing better" away from home often lose dollars in trying to save pennies.

The home merchant is honest and offers honest values. He can't afford to be otherwise, though he might be inclined to. He depends for his living from the community which he serves and he must give the community what it wants at a fair price.

When you are tempted to trade outside and buy something "just as good" at lower prices you should think twice before acting. If you are disappointed in merchandise bought at home, you can always get an adjustment. The merchant himself may have been cheated and he is generally willing to take the loss rather than have a dissatisfied customer.

But the out-of-town merchant is not personally interested in you. His only hope is to sell you once and he does not have to take precautions to preserve your good will.

More than owing it to your community to trade at home, thus keeping your money in circulation at home, you should give the home merchant the first opportunity to serve you, from a sound economic viewpoint.

Stewart's Washington Letter

WASHINGTON — A Spanish anarchist I once knew had been living in exile in Paris. The French decided to deport him. They shipped him across the Channel to Dover.

"Got any money?" asked the English port authorities, not caring whether he was an anarchist or not. "Not a sou," he confessed. "Then we can't admit you," the officials ruled. "Here I am," rejoined the anarchist, "with no way of getting anywhere else. What are you going to do?" "Well, wait here," came back the officials, locking him up.

ing him up. "We'll wire to immigration headquarters in London and find out."

Pretty quick back came a telegram from London: "Good gracious! Don't you know political refugees aren't in the same class with ordinary immigrants? Apologize, and let him right in." How does that compare with the immigration bureau of the Labor Department here in Washington?

NOBODY is better fixed to broadcast smallpox than the conductor of a crowded street car. The health authorities have been pretty anxious ever since they discovered one engaged in doing it on the Washington Railway and Electric line. He'd been at it for several days, too. Rounding up all his "contacts" is impossible, of course.

RIGHT on top of this in came a big batch of New York papers with an anti-vaccination story on the front page. Newsboys immediately began selling them, yelling: "Vaccination kills many," as loud as they could. "Not as many as smallpox," said Health Officer Fowler, telephoning the police to shut out the yelling at least.

THE popular idea is that there's no difference between Republicans and Democrats any more—that there are conservatives and liberals, but that a Republican is just as apt to be one as the other, and so is a Democrat—and so, while you can tell conservatives and liberals apart, you can't tell Republicans from Democrats—they wear party labels but the labels don't mean anything.

"Oh yes they do," says Senator Henrik Shipstead of Minnesota, the upper House's lone Farmer-Laborite. "A Republican believes a Republican administration ought to name all the federal appointees. A Democrat believes a Democratic administration ought to name them. So there's a radical difference between the two, you see. But it's the only one there is."

Mae Murray at Castle

Mae Murray, the Metro star, comes to the Castle theatre today and Tuesday in her latest picture, "Mademoiselle Midnight," which is said to give her the best role she has ever had. The story, written by Carl Harbaugh and John Russell, concerns the daughter of a Mexican ranch owner, who is afflicted with an odd midnight madness. With this as a premise, the film works up to many thrilling moments. Miss Murray has an opportunity to wear gowns of the Spanish style and she introduces some sensational dances.

Monte Blue heads the supporting cast, which also includes Robert McKim, Robert Edson, John Sainpolis, Otis Harlan, Nigel de Bruier, and Nick de Ruiz. Oliver T. Marsh was the photographer. "Mademoiselle Midnight" is presented by Tiffany Productions, of which M. H. Hoffman is general manager and Robert Z. Leonard, director general. It is released by Metro.

"East of Suez," Princess

"East of Suez," Pola Negri's latest Paramount starring picture, today and Tuesday at the Princess theatre, challenges, for color and richness, anything ever before seen on the screen.

The settings included in the picture, which was adapted by Sada Cowan from Somerset Maugham's stage play by that name, show a magnificent Chinese house-boat furnished with gorgeous eastern hangings, idols of bronze and rare Chinese carpets; a Chinese garden; a Chinese temple which rivals in magnificence the famed places of Peking; scenes on an ocean liner and an amazing array of fashion which contrasts the modes of both Paris and the Orient.

Among the tense dramatic situations which are developed by the story are scenes between two men and a woman with a glass of poisoned wine; the intrigue of a powerful Chinese nobleman in his efforts to win a foreign bride; the exciting moment when Pola Negri, as the persecuted heroine, throws herself from a house-boat into a river in the dead of night and many additional scenes said to contain enthralling human interest.

IS EVERY DAY A BACKACHE DAY?

Rushville Folks Have Found the Cause and Corrected It

Is your back lame and aching? Are you tortured with sharp, rheumatic pains; miserable with headaches, dizzy spells and kidney irregularities? No wonder, then, you feel worn-out and discouraged. But have you given any thought to your kidneys? You should! Weak kidneys cause just such troubles. Don't risk neglect! Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Here's a Rushville case.

George W. Conrad, retired stationary engineer, 810 W. Third St., says: "Backache bothered me. Every time I tried to lift, a sharp pain darted across my back and when I got up in the morning, it was hard to stir around. The kidney secretions didn't pass nearly as often as they should, either. Also sneezes before my eyes blurred my sight. Four boxes of Doan's Pills drove kidney troubles away."

Killer of Eight

Mrs. Emmanuel Sorensen, 28, of Dannenberg, Neb., has confessed to the poisoning of eight persons, including two of her own children and her first husband.

"You will be interested in a few words with regard to the Rebekah Lodge. The Rebekah Lodge Degree was written by Echnyer Colfax, an eminent statesman of Indiana and Vice President of the United States, and was adopted by Grand Lodge at Baltimore in 1852.

"On Saturday night of the week in which the Rebekah Degree was adopted, the degree was conferred in Franklin Lodge Hall by General P. A. Hackleman and this is the first time the Rebekah degree was ever conferred so far as we have any knowledge."

Regarding the origin of the lodge he said: "The Independent Order of Odd Fellows had its origin some time before the year 1748, in England. At first it seems to have been a working men's benevolent society.

"Early records of the Order have not been preserved but our first knowledge begins with Aristarchus Lodge No. 9 at Globe Tavern in London 1748. From this the order has spread until there are now in all parts of the world 68 grand lodges, 18,000 subordinate lodges; with a total membership of 2,600,000. There are 10,000 Rebekah lodges; 58 grand encampments with 3,500 subordinate encampments which with Patriarchs Militant Odd Fellows, an army of peace number 200,000 members.

"The Independent Order of Odd Fellows had its beginning in the United States with the coming of Thomas Wilder who arrived in Baltimore in 1818. In the spring of 1819 he with three others organized Washington Lodge No. 1, in Baltimore, Md.

"The resources of the Order have grown until now they reach $25,000,000 and last year spent $7,000,000 in the relief of members.

"Indiana has 745 lodges with a membership of 90,000. In keeping with the teachings of the order a Home was built at Greensburg for aged Odd Fellows, their widows and orphans. There are now 260 inmates of which 60 are children between the ages of 1 and 15."

"MAGIC CITY" IS GROWING STEADILY

Established Concerns of Gary Are Expanding to Keep Pace With Needs of Industries

MAY BECOME STEEL CENTER

Real Estate Values Increase Steadily as Demand for Factory Sites Grows

Gary, Ind., May 11—Alladin's industrial lamp is carrying on its magic work in this "magic city" which sprang mushroom-like from the sand dunes of northern Indiana, according to reports made public today.

Population of Gary and other cities in the Calumet region is growing steadily to man the steel mills which are constantly increasing their capacity. Along with the erection of new plant units and new mills, other business enterprises are starting and established concerns are expanding to keep pace with the needs of this industrial center.

Abolishment of the Pittsburgh Plus rate system has started and kept going, a boom in the steel industry, which served as the cornerstone in the foundation of this city. Steel men say that Gary will become the steel center of America and bearing out their prediction are activities toward erection of new mills and new plant units.

Real estate values have increased steadily as the demand for factory sites and home sites grew. Building permits have been issued daily in Gary, Hammond, East Chicago, and Indiana Harbor for erection of modern apartment buildings, stores, homes, factories, etc.

For the fourth successive month, Gary surpassed its previous monthly building figures according to the April report on city building announced by the Gary Land company. The report shows that the city during April started work on 142 building improvements with a total value of $1,510,700. The greatest previous building record was established during March when the permits were issued for construction valued at $1,465,750. Similarly, January and February had set records.

During the first four months of 1925, construction aggregating $5,390,000 has been instituted. Much of the building work has been for apartment and home construction to care for the increasing population. On the basis of its annual school enumeration, just completed, Gary has a population of 84,000, which represents a gain of 51 percent from the 1920 enumeration.

This story was news to the boys from the street. But they showed little interest. "Tough Bill" was their spokesman.

"I've known Mother Drury for 18 years," Tough Bill said, "and he wiped his unshaven face with a rag that might have been called a handkerchief. Tears oozed out of his sod-

I.O.O.F. DEDICATION STARTED ON SUNDAY

Sermon by Rev. Gibson Wilson Opens
Program Which Will End on Tuesday Night

WILL BE OPEN FOR PUBLIC

Members of Lodge Will be Present
to Conduct Visitors Through the
New Lodge Home

The dedicatory program arranged by the Odd Fellows for the formal opening of their new temple, corner of Morgan and Third streets, got under way with a service at the First Presbyterian church Sunday evening, and today final touches were being put on the temple in preparation for the public reception Tuesday at 3 p. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Members of the lodge will be present to receive the public and conduct the visitors through the building for an inspection. A company of negro spiritual singers will entertain at 8 p. m. at the temple and the Odd Fellows orchestra of twelve pieces will also play in the evening.

The Rev. Gibson Wilson, who was grand chaplain in Indiana last year and held the same position in Ohio Odd Fellowship before coming to Indiana, spoke on "The Origin and Teaching of Odd Fellowship" and gave a brief history of the local lodge, referring to its notable career with reference to the men it had provided for larger duties.

"The local lodge," the Rev. Mr. Wilson pointed out, "was organized May 13, 1846, just 79 years ago on Wednesday of this week, the day on which the new lodge is to be dedicated. Its membership is now 424 with a class of 40 ready to be initiated on that occasion."

"This lodge has had a notable career especially with reference to its membership. Among those who have attained distinction in the order are General P. A. Hackleman a charter member and Past Grand Master; Leonidas Sexton, Lieutenant Governor of Indiana and Past Grand Master; Edwin Farrer an enthusiastic supporter of the order and Past Grand Master; J. T. Arbuckle untiring in his efforts for the order and a Past Grand Master. BRICK CONSTRUCTION BEING RESUMED TODAY

Work Delayed Last Week on Endres-Tompkins Furniture Plant,
But Brick Has Now Arrived

RAILROAD SWITCH IS BUILT

Work on the Endres-Tompkins Furniture company plant, which has been started north and west of the Nashville Furniture company's buildings, was resumed in earnest today, following a week's delay due to the non-arrival of brick.

The cement foundation was completed a week ago and bricklayers went to work at the front of the building, building up the sidewalks. Delay in the shipment of brick slowed up the building operations, but with the arrival of three cars, it is expected that the building will go up rapidly.

The bed for the siding which is being run from the Pennsylvania railroad to the site of the new plant, has been completed and the ties laid, and it will be completed as soon as cinders arrive for ballasting, so that the rails can be laid.

Phil Wilk is superintending the erection of the building and expects to push it through to completion at the earliest possible period.

The building will be brick and steel construction, with steel window sash. It will be one story, with two long sections extending east and west, and joined at the front which faces in George street.

Indianapolis, May 11.—D. C. Stephenson, former grand dragon of the Indiana Ku Klux Klan in jail charged with murder for the death of Miss Madge Oberholtzer, faces a busy week if he personally attends all the legal hearings in which he is involved.

Trial of his damage suit for $125,000 against Walter Bossert, of Liberty, Ind., Klan leader, and Hiram W. Evans, former imperial wizard of the hooded order, is set for Tuesday in federal court.

The complaint charges that Evans was responsible for the burning of Stephenson's yacht in Toledo, O., last year. Bossert was named in the suit but his name was later dropped.

Hearing will be held in superior court Tuesday on attachment proceedings against the Fidelity and Deposit company involving real estate and personal property of Stephenson.

The case was brought by Mrs. Nettie Stephenson Brehm, of Porteau, Okla., his former wife, who is seeking $17,000 support money for their child.

On Friday Judge Collins in criminal court will hear arguments on the motion to quash the indictment charging Stephenson and his two aids, Earl Klenck and Earl Gentry, with murder for the death of Miss Oberholtzer.

Another attachment proceedings will be heard May 20 over possession of rugs formerly belonging to Stephenson now in the hands of Claude Worley, criminal court investigator.

EXTENDS OVATION TO NEW PRESIDENT

Crowds Lined up for Six Miles to
Greet Field Marshal Von Hindenburg in Berlin

TAKES OATH ON TUESDAY

City Takes Precautionary Measures
To Prevent Trouble, and Many
Police are on Hand

Berlin, May 11.—Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, president-elect of Germany, arrived in Berlin today greeted by a tremendous throng which lined the six mile route from near Neerstrasse station in the suburbs to the Wilhelmstrasse Palace.

There was a dramatic scene at the suburban station when the Field Marshal, who takes the oath of office as president of the Republic tomorrow, stepped from his private car.

Pale behind his bristling moustache and holding himself very erect Von Hindenburg was dressed in black over coat and carried black hat and gloves. A deep silence from the throng on the platform which marked his appearance, was broken by a sudden roar of cheers and cries of "hooray."

A smile broke across the field marshal's face and he bowed solemnly. Chancellor Luther advanced and shook hands cordially with the president-elect.

Berlin steeled itself for the shock of possible clashes between Republicans and monarchists and ten thousand police, the largest mobilization in the capital's history, were on duty. Hundreds of detectives mingled with the throngs that surged to the route of Hindenburg's arrival.

Airplanes carrying police back and forth over the city, watching out for disturbances. There was no martial music, no bands whatever being permitted.

Throughout Berlin, by orders of monarchists organizations, the red, white and black banners of the old empire were displayed.

FUNERAL IS HELD FOR MOTHER DRURY

"Angel of the Barrel Houses" is
Buried Today as "Forgotten Men"
Shed Their Tears

STRANGE FUNERAL IN CHICAGO

Aged Woman Was Known by all
Men Along The Street, and Many of Them She Has Helped

By EDWARD C. DERR
(U. I. Staff Correspondent)

Chicago, May 11.—A hush fell along the street of "forgotten men" today and tears fell unashamed from eyes, that once were hard and cold. It was the funeral for Mother Drury, the "angel of the barrel houses."

A grey-haired woman, nearly 70, a bit of a smile was still on her face as gaunt and broken-down men filed slowly past her casket, some of them dropping wilted and fading wild flowers at her bier.

There was "Tough Bill" Powell, a familiar character along the street; "Pete the Blind Fiddler," "Charley the Crutch," and other bits of human driftwood that had known Mother Drury for many years. She had gone up and down the murky streets of the barrel house district and called these men "my boys."

An air of mystery hung over the strange funeral. Mother Drury had come to the barrel houses 39 years ago, nobody knew from where. She had lived in a tiny third floor room with no companion but a cat that she rescued from under the wheels of a truck. Her only income was nickels and dimes that she collected for singing on the street corners, and more than half of these nickels and dimes she slipped into the pockets of her "boys."

Some of the mystery however, was wiped away at the funeral. Long lost relatives had read in the newspapers of Mother Drury's death. A brother, John Drury, 71, appeared in the quiet little undertaker's chapel and told what he knew of her.

NEGRO BANDIT WANTED ON SEVERAL ROBBERIES

Indianapolis Police are After Man
Responsible For Attacks on 3
White Women

ROBBED THEIR COMPANIONS

Indianapolis, Ind., May 11.—Police today redoubled their efforts to trail a negro bandit held responsible for attacks on three white women during the past two months and the robbery of a white man and woman Sunday night.

The negro jumped on the running board of the auto in which James Murphy and Miss Marion Vaxter were riding and compelled Murphy to stop the machine.

Miss Vaxter and Murphy were forced to leave the auto and lie face downward in the grass while the negro robbed Murphy.

As the bandit started toward the girl another auto approached and he fled.

The circumstances were a duplication of the attack on a white girl by a negro a few days ago after the girl's companion had been beaten by the negro.

MOTHER DOMINATE FIGURE IN CHURCH

Her Praises Sung in Prose, Poetry and Song in Sunday Services
Held in Rushville

SERMONS DEAL WITH THEME

Old-Fashioned Mother and Modern
Mother Compared—Mother's
Great Perogative Home Making

Mother was the dominate figure in church services Sunday when Mothers' Day was celebrated. Morning sermons in Rushville dealt with the theme and the praises of motherhood were sounded in prose, poetry, and song. Sunday schools also emphasized the special day.

"A Mother's Throne" was the topic of the Rev. R. W. Sage at the First Baptist church and at the First Presbyterian church, the Rev. Gibson Wilson's theme was "Motherhood, a Partnership With God."

"Memories of Mother" was the topic of the sermon by the Rev. B. F. Cato at the Main Street Christian church, in which he compared the old-fashioned mother with the modern mother. He declared that mothers today were meeting their obligations and responsibilities just as well as old-fashioned mothers.

"The Soul of a Mother" was the subject of the sermon at St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church. In the evening the Rev. Dr. Charles W. Linsley preached an exceptionally strong sermon from John 21:21,22. It was a great pleasure for his friends and former parishoners to meet him and hear him preach.

St. Paul's Church

"The Soul of a Mother," was the subject of the Rev. H. W. Hargrett's sermon delivered Sunday morning at the St. Paul's M. E. church. His text was taken from Luke 1:46, "My soul doth magnify the Lord, and Luke 2:35, "Yea a sword shall pierce through thine own soul." The sermon was as follows:

"God is ever revealing himself through Christ, through his word and his works, through history and through human relationships. Among these relationships the home is supreme. There mother love is a type of the divine love. In the soil of the true mother we find a revelation of God's care for his children. Our texts refer to the soul of Mary, the Mother of Jesus. In that soul there was gladness and sadness. "My soul doth magnify the Lord, Mary enters the door of the temple of history to music. In this noble hymn of the Magnificent, her whole nature was caught up into rapturous exaltation. She worshipped God"

IRENE KLINE FILES A CROSS COMPLAINT

Former Rushville Girl Asks $2,500
Alimony and Seeks Restoration
of Maiden Name

FILES SUIT AT CONNERSVILLE

Irene M. Kline, formerly Irene Maple of this city, has filed a cross complaint for divorce against Paul G. Kline in the Fayette circuit court at Connersville in which city the couple has resided since their marriage. She seeks $2,500 alimony and also asks that her former name of Irene Maple be restored.

Her action follows the filing of a divorce complaint by the husband several days ago, in which he made several charges against her.

The cross-complaint avers that Mrs. Kline's husband objected when she had her hair bobbed; that he forced her to make false admissions about caring for other men, and that he held "booze" parties at their home against her wishes. It is alleged that he threatened to smirch her character if she opposed his efforts to secure a divorce or if she tried to collect alimony.

In the suit filed by the plaintiff it was alleged that Mrs. Kline was jealous of the plaintiff's daughter and that she left him when he gave his daughter an interest in some chickens.

BIBLE THOUGHT —FOR TODAY—

This thought should be a guide to the Christian in his daily life.

Death or Life:—To be carnally minded is death; but to be spiritually minded is life and peace. Romans 8:6.

Prayer:—Gracious God, we know that Thou art a Spirit, able to change us from carnal to spiritual. We look to Thee in faith. Do Thou change us into the likeness of Thine Own Image.

A Vital Force

Advertising has reached the stage in its development where it plays a fundamental part in the life of the modern world. Its phenomenal growth and development has been in large measure due to the constructive work of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, which organization is holding its twenty-first annual convention in Houston, Texas, this week.

Secretary Hoover of President Coolidge's cabinet, in welcoming delegates from all over the world to the convention, gave a deserved tribute to advertising and the influence it has on modern business life.

"It has truly become," he said, "one of the vital forces in our entire industrial and commercial system. And beyond this, it has in its repercussions set many currents moving of wider influence than even the economic life of our people. It is now fixed as an integral part of this complex of civilization which we have built up."

Mr. Hoover went on to say that there was a time when advertising was not looked upon as a vital part of our economic system, but that its status had changed during the past few years.

Mr. Hoover gave credit to advertising for increasing our standards of living. He argued well when he said that no matter how fine an addition to human comfort or pleasure an article may be, unless there is a diffusion of knowledge and information with respect to it, will not itself become quickly accepted and incorporated into our standards of living.

Sound Reasoning

Communities grow only in proportion to the support they receive from the people who make up the community.

Rushville and Rush county will never improve in quality and size by the inhabitants investing their money or buying the necessities of life in other localities.

People who cling to the misguided policy of "doing better" away from home often lose dollars in trying to save pennies.

The home merchant is honest and offers honest values. He can't afford to be otherwise, though he might be inclined to. He depends for his living from the community which he serves and he must give the community what it wants at a fair price.

When you are tempted to trade outside and buy something "just as good" at lower prices you should think twice before acting. If you are disappointed in merchandise bought at home, you can always get an adjustment. The merchant himself may have been cheated and he is generally willing to take the loss rather than have a dissatisfied customer.

But the out-of-town merchant is not personally interested in you. His only hope is to sell you once and he does not have to take precautions to preserve your good will.

More than owing it to your community to trade at home, thus keeping your money in circulation at home, you should give the home merchant the first opportunity to serve you, from a sound economic viewpoint.

WASHINGTON — A Spanish anarchist I once knew had been living in exile in Paris. The French decided to deport him. They shipped him across the Channel to Dover.

"Got any money?" asked the English port authorities, not caring whether he was an anarchist or not. "Not a sou," he answered. "Then we can't admit you," the officials ruled. "Here I am," rejoined the anarchist, "with no way of getting anywhere else. What are you going to do?" "Well, wait here," came back the officials, locking him up.

"We'll wire to immigration headquarters in London and find out," they said.

Pretty quick back came a telegram from London: "Good gracious! Don't you know political refugees aren't in the same class with ordinary immigrants? Apologize, and let him right in." How does that compare with the Immigration bureau of the Labor Department here in Washington?

NOBODY is better fixed to broadcast smallpox than the conductor of a crowded street car. The health authorities have been pretty anxious ever since they discovered one engaged in doing it on the Washington Railway and Electric line. He'd been at it for several days, too. Rounding up all his "contacts" is impossible, of course.

RIGHT on top of this is coming a batch of New York papers with an anti-vaccination story on the front page. Newsboys immediately began selling them, yelling, "Vaccination kills many!" as loud as they could. "Not as many as smallpox," said Health Officer Fowler, telephoning the police to shut off the yelling at least.

THIS popular idea is that there's no difference between Republicans and Democrats any more—that there are conservatives and liberals; but that a Republican is just as apt to be one as the other, and as apt to be a Democrat, while you can tell conservatives and liberals apart, you can't tell Republicans from Democrats—they wear party labels but the labels don't mean anything.

Oh yes they do, says Senator Henrik Shipstead of Minnesota—the upper House's lone Farmer-Laborite. "A Republican believes a Republican administration ought to name all the federal appointees. A Democrat believes a Democratic administration ought to name them. So there's a radical difference between the two, you see. But it's the only one there is."

IS EVERY DAY A BACKACHE DAY?

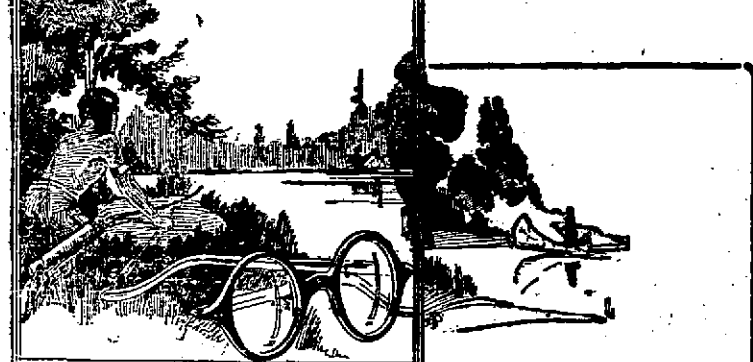

Rushville Folks Have Found the Cause and Corrected It

Is your back lame and achy? Are you tortured with sharp, rheumatic pains; miserable with headaches; dizzy spells and kidney irregularities? No wonder, then, you feel worn-out and discouraged. But have you given any thought to your kidneys? You should! Weak kidneys cause just such troubles. Don't risk neglect! Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Here's a Rushville case.

George W. Conrad, retired stationary engineer, 810 W. Third St., says: "Backache bothered me. Every time I tried to lift, a sharp pain darted across my back and when I got up in the morning, it was hard to stir around. The kidney secretions didn't pass nearly as often as they should, either. Also sneezes before my eyes blurred my sight. Four boxes of Doan's Pills drove kidney troubles away."

Killer of Eight

Mrs. Emmanuel Sorensen, 23, of Dannenberg, Neb., has confessed to the poisoning of eight persons, including two of her own children and her first husband.

"You will be interested in a few words with regard to the Rebekah Lodge. The Rebekah Lodge Degree was written by Echnylor Colfax, an eminent statesman of Indiana and Vice President of the United States, and was adopted by Grand Lodge at Baltimore in 1852.

"On Saturday night of the week in which the Rebekah Degree was adopted, the degree was conferred in Franklin Lodge Hall by General P. A. Hackleman and this is the first time the Rebekah degree was ever conferred so far as we have any knowledge."

Regarding the origin of the lodge he said:

"The Independent Order of Odd Fellows had its origin some time before the year 1748, in England. At first it seems to have been a working men's beneficiary society.

"Early records of the Order have not been preserved but our first knowledge begins with Aristarchus Lodge No. 9 at Globe Tavern in London 1748. From this the order has spread until there are now in all parts of the world 68 grand lodges 18,000 subordinate lodges; with a total membership of 2,600,000. There are 10,000 Rebekah lodges; 58 grand encampments with 3,500 subordinate encampments which with Patriarchs Militant Odd Fellows, an army of peace number 200,000 members.

"The Independent Order of Odd Fellows had its beginning in the United States with the coming of Thomas Wilder who arrived in Baltimore in 1818. In the spring of 1819 he with three others organized Washington Lodge No. 1, in Baltimore, Md.

"The resources of the Order have grown until now they reach $25,000,000 and last year spent $7,000,000 in the relief of members.

"Indiana has 745 lodges with a membership of 90,000. In keeping with the teachings of the order a Home was built at Greensburg for aged Odd Fellows, their widows and orphans. There are now 260 inmates of which 60 are children between the ages of 1 and 15."

"MAGIC CITY" IS GROWING STEADILY

Established Concerns of Gary Are Expanding to Keep Pace With Needs of Industries

MAY BECOME STEEL CENTER

Real Estate Values Increase Steadily as Demand for Factory Sites Grows

Gary, Ind., May 11—Allahin's industrial lamp is carrying on its magic work in this "magic city" which springs mushroom-like from the sand dunes of northern Indiana, according to reports made public today.

Population of Gary and other cities in the Calumet region is growing steadily to man the steel mills which are constantly increasing their capacity. Along with the erection of new plant units and new mills, other business enterprises are starting and established concerns are expanding to keep pace with the needs of this industrial center.

Abolishment of the Pittsburgh Plus rate system has started and kept going, a boom in the steel industry, which served as the cornerstone in the foundation of this city. Steel men say that Gary will become the steel center of America and bearing out their prediction are activities toward erection of new mills and new plant units.

Real estate values have increased steadily as the demand for factory sites and home sites grew. Building permits have been issued daily in Gary, Hammond, East Chicago, and Indiana Harbor for erection of modern apartment buildings, stores, homes, factories, etc.

For the fourth successive month, Gary surpassed its previous monthly building figures according to the April report on city building announced by the Gary Land company. The report shows that the city during April started work on 142 building improvements with a total value of $1,510,700. The greatest previous building record was established during March when the permits were issued for construction valued at $1,465,750. Similarly, January and February had set records.

During the first four months of 1925, construction aggregating $5,390,000 has been instituted. Much of the building work has been for apartment and home construction to care for the increasing population. On the basis of its annual school enumeration, just completed, Gary has a population of 84,000, which represents a gain of 51 percent from the 1920 enumeration.

FUNERAL IS HELD FOR MOTHER DRURY

"I haven't seen her for more than 30 years," the stooping shouldered old man said. "She left her family when she was disappointed in love. That was a long, long time ago. We never saw her since. She went down there with the boys and lived for them."

This story was news to the boys from the street. But they showed little interest. "Tough Bill" was their spokesman.

"I've known Mother Drury for 18 years," Tough Bill said, and he wiped his unshaven face with a rag that might have been called a handkerchief. Tears oozed out of his sod-

Twenty Still Unaccounted For in Sinking of the Norman

Memphis, Tenn., May 11—Search continued today for trace of twenty bodies still unrecovered from the wreck of government steamer Norman, which went down in fifty feet of water in the Mississippi river Friday, with loss of twenty three lives.
